TONOPAH DIVIDE

BUILT IN 1875, LOCOMOTIVE IS STILL RUNNING

Associated Press

TONOPAH, Aug. 10.—A tall, thin locomotive built in 1875 is still running, having been taken from the British Museum to the exhibition of "Curious Objects" presented at the British Museum.

It has been the regular service and has been exhibited with the rest of the curiosities since last

July 26, when the British Government transferred the locomotive to the British Munium in London.

The engine, which is 46 feet

long and weighs 100 tons,

was built by the English

firm of Robert Stephenson &

Son, of Newcastle-on-Tyne.

The engine was used in the construction of the Suez Canal.

It was used in the construction of the Canadian

Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway.
